

Economic and Social Issues: Markets and the Marginalized

Tuesday Nights - 6-8pm - Dinner Provided

We will be discussing:

- How do markets and government help or hinder disadvantaged groups?
- What role has race played in the history of economic thought?
- What are the consequences of mass incarceration?
- What explains persistent poverty among Native Americans?

Participants will receive a $500 gift card after completing the program. They will also have the opportunity to travel to Dallas, Texas to participate in a multi-campus reading group with students from three other universities hosted by Southern Methodist University.

Application Deadline: August 30, 2017
