

The Board of Trustees of the Arkansas State Normal met in Conway, Monday, June 3rd, 1918. Present: Bond, Oliver, Lenon, Dunaway, McDaniel and Frauenthal.

Gov. Donaghey, contractor for the new building made a statement to the board as to the progress of the building. A scarcity of stone he said was delaying seriously the completion of the building. On motion Mr. Oliver was authorized to go to Batesville with the architect and see if the shipment of stone could not be hastened,

Mr. Torreyson was authorized to secure a layout for clock for the new building and then clock could be placed at the pleasure of the board

The cost of eight cars of coal at $5.85 per ton was ordered paid out of the appropriation for current expense.

Mr. Torreyson was authorized to purchase books for the library at a cost not exceed $500.

Upon motion Mr. Kirkwood of Little Rock or some other competent person was asked to come to Conway and and inspect heating plant to see if same could not be materially improved so as to meet requirements of the new building.

The following faculty was elected to serve at the pleasure of the board at the salary per month set opposite their names:
