Discussion Items (continued):

- We have implemented our cost containment website
- Hard Bid Construction – We have the most at 84, more than U of A. They have general contracts on contract under an order. UCA bids each project. Example: Ida Waldran – we acted as our own General Contractor. We will bid out each small contract. If $5,000,000 or more, no need for bid based on qualifications of general contractor and architect. General Contractor bids out each job. Business building and Bear Hall are alternate delivery.
- Tuition and fees – UA has smallest increase in four (4) years
- State concerned about amount of debt students have when leaving university (8.6% loan default rate)
- Cost Containment Report will be submitted as of today.
- We may not be allowed to offer online courses for undergrad, Laura will check on this.
- Next Legislative meeting is scheduled for Oct 30 at 1:30 PM in Big Mac.

- Cost Savings –
  - Aerators have been installed in residence halls
    - In low usage settings they will save approx. 2000 gallons per year
    - In classroom/lab, a 13,000 gallon per year savings
    - Bear Hall will be next
  - Artificial turf - true savings, estimates were low
  - Insurance -
    - U of A System has selected a new firm to manage health insurance, we have also tried to save on health insurance, must have everyone to agree. Have we made comparisons with other universities?
    - South Carolina – everyone working for a state agency has same insurance.
    - Self-funding would mean we would need cash on hand.
    - Jonesboro, Henderson & UCA talked about combing insurance costs.

- Certain elements make Bear Hall a LEED building
- Rpt 17 A – Breaks down expenditures
- Visiting positions – 1 year – can roll for three (3) years, provides flexibility and salary savings

Future speakers/presentations suggested:
- Angie Howard – recycling
- Graham Gillis – wellness and academic affairs, savings in President’s office
- Dr. Runge was detained and we will ask him to speak at an upcoming RU meeting.

Notes:
- Connie, Chad & Leslie to post information from the RU committee across campus.

Next Meeting: Scheduled for November 13-2012. (Meeting to be rescheduled due to a conflict)
