Academic, departmental/performance, other, restricted, and international scholarships do not cover charges for open learning courses. However, once the course is completed it could have bearing on future renewal requirements. Open learning courses are courses that are non-semester based that extend beyond the traditional semester. The courses may begin and end at various times throughout the academic year.