A Liberal Arts College that is nationally recognized, being fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges.

Bulletin of the Arkansas State Teachers College, Vol. XX, No. 4, Oct., 1933.
Published quarterly by the Arkansas State Teachers College, Conway, Arkansas. Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Conway, Arkansas, under Act of August 24, 1912.

COLLEGE? YES! BUT WHERE!

The young man or the young woman who upon graduation from high school has decided to go to college in order to better fit himself or herself for the privilege of living and serving in the modern world has first of all to decide which college to attend. Before reaching a decision as to whether or not he should choose any certain institution of higher learning the high school graduate who is wise will demand answers to a number of questions:

1. Will the college in question give me the assistance I desire and need in preparing for my life work?

2. Is the college in question qualified to give me this needed help and training?

3. Is the atmosphere and environment under which the college does its work such as to bring me pleasure and enjoyment while I am pursuing my studies, thereby contributing to better effort on my part?

4. What is the expense of attending this college? Will I be able to meet it without burdening myself to a degree that will interfere with my duty to myself and to the members of my family?

It is the purpose of this bulletin to give the young men and women of this state information that will enable them to answer the foregoing questions insofar as the Arkansas State Teachers College, at Conway, Arkansas, is concerned. After you have read it should you decide to enroll at our institution we shall give you the best welcome of which we are capable. Should you choose another college we want you to know that our best wishes for your future happiness and success go with you.

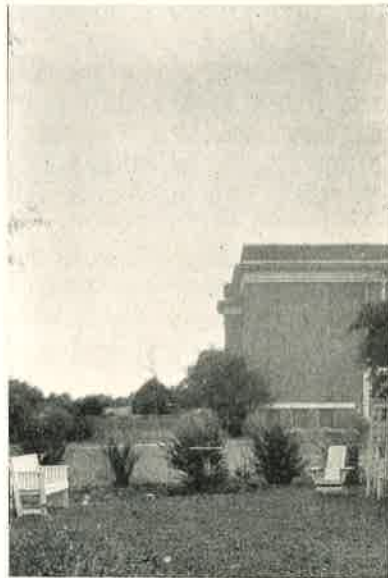

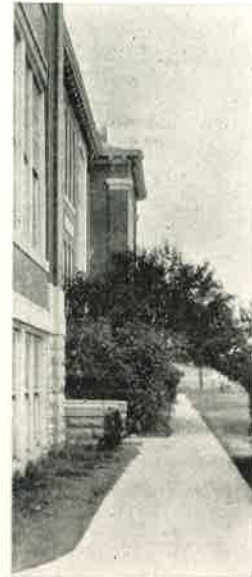

I. Will I Be Able to Get the Courses and Training I Desire and Need at A. S. T. C.?

The Arkansas State Teachers College offers:

(1) A four years curriculum in the Liberal Arts. This is sometimes referred to as the general Arts and Sciences course. It leads to the degree of Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Arts, the same degrees granted by any standard liberal arts college.

(2) Twelve different curricula designed for the training of those who desire to become teachers, each offering preparation in some specified teaching field, and all leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education.

(3) The following Pre-Professional Courses: Pre-Medical Course; Pre-Dental Course; Pre-Law Course; the first year of Pharmacy, and the first two years of Engineering.

(4) Special Courses in Piano, Voice, Violin, Expression and Art.

(5) Over 380 different courses distributed among the following fields: Agriculture; Art; Biological Science; Chemistry; Economics; Education; English and Literature; Expression; French; Geography; Government; German; History; Home Economics; Industrial Arts; Latin; Mathematics; Music; Physics; Physical Education; Psychology and Sociology.

II. Is A. S. T. C. Qualified to Give the Help and Training I Desire?

(1) The Arkansas State Teachers College has been accorded national recognition as a college of liberal arts by being admitted as a full member to the North Central Association of Colleges.

(2) The Arkansas State Teachers College is a member of the American Association of Teachers Colleges, Class "A" rating without any deficiencies, and as such is recognized as one of the best institutions for the training of teachers in the United States.

(3) The college plant consists of eight modern and well equipped buildings, the total valuation of which approximates three-quarters of a million dollars. Included in these are thoroughly equipped laboratories and a splendid library containing a large and well selected list of books and periodicals.

(4) The college faculty is made up of over forty well trained specialists, men and women holding doctors and masters degrees from the best and largest universities in America, and includes a number who have studied abroad.

(5) A report issued by the University of Arkansas for 1931-32 shows that students who transferred to the university from A. S. T. C. made a higher grade average than that made by students transferred from any other college in the state.

(6) Graduates of A. S. T. C. have made good and received higher degrees from Columbia University, the University of Missouri, the University of Iowa, University of Colorado, University of Arkansas, and many other leading universities of the country.

Credits earned at A. S. T. C. stand the test.

III. Will I Enjoy My Student Days at A.S.T.C.?

The management of the Arkansas State Teachers College believes that students must find their college life enjoyable if they are to profit greatly by their attendance here. Hence college life at A. S. T. C. means much more than work in the classrooms, library, and laboratories. It means also pleasant and comfortable housing, recreation and sport, fun, and well organized and wholesome social life.

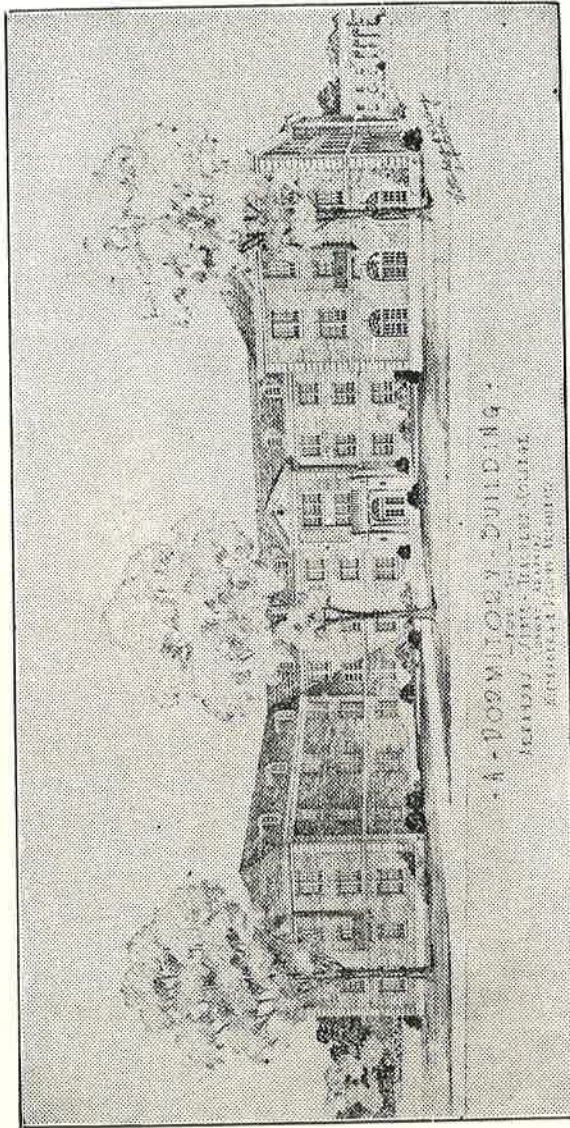

Housing Facilities

The college is able to offer unusually good housing facilities for its students. For women there is the new residence hall which is to be completed during the fall of 1933. It stands in a grove of beautiful oaks in the southeast corner of the campus. Modern and fireproof, when finished it will be one of the most complete buildings of its kind. It is being constructed along beautiful architectural lines, of brick and stone, and will consist of a basement and three stories. It will accommodate 124 young women. In it every provision is made for study, and for student progress; and no conveniences are omitted which are necessary to comfort and enjoyment. It will be used largely to centralize the social life of the college. Consequently on its first floor are to be found a number of very attractive reception rooms, two banquet rooms, and a large dining hall which will seat 400. The service will be under the direction of skilled dietitians, and meals will be served not only to the boarding students, but to other students as well whenever they so desire.

For Men. Upon the completion of the new residence hall for women the present girls' dormitory, Doyne Hall, will be converted into a dormitory for men. About 100 men are to be accommodated here. It is being made absolutely modern. Appropriate and sufficient lounging rooms and recreation halls are being provided so as to make the building a desirable home for men.

Until the building program is completed women students will be housed in Doyne Hall, and board for men can be secured in homes near the campus at a reasonable rate.

Extra-Curricular Activities:

Athletics—Athletics for both men and women are provided and encouraged. Intercollegiate contests in football, basket ball, track, baseball and tennis, as well as intra-mural engagements in the same sports loom large in student life. Jerry Dalrymple, Tulane's All-American player, has been employed as coach and will assume his duties on September 1, 1933. A complete program of instruction and guidance in physical education is already in operation.

Dramatics—Not only is instruction in dramatic art provided but a Little Theatre organization exists which furnishes an opportunity for those enjoying dramatic effort to develop it through the production of a number of plays during the year.

Debating—The college debating teams hold an enviable record. Each year they participate in a number of inter-collegiate contests and tournaments. Last year a debater from this college, John Robert Russell, won first place as best individual debater in the state tournament; and a men's team from this college won second place at a tournament in which 38 teams from Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Arkansas colleges were participants.

Publications—The Echo, student newspaper, gives actual experience to students interested in journalism. During the past three years it has been awarded first place once and second place twice among the college papers of the state by the college press association. The Scroll, the college annual, won first place among the college annuals of Arkansas in 1932.

Musical Activities: A choir, various choral clubs, and glee clubs, as well as an orchestra and string ensemble have proved enjoyable organizations for those with musical talent. The organization of a college band is being projected.

Religious Life: The religious activities of our students finds expression through well organized Christian Associations, a Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and a Christian Leadership Club.

Honor Societies: Scholarship is rewarded by admitting the upper tenth of the Junior and Senior Classes to the Phil R. Clugston Chapter of the Scholarship Societies of the South, which has been established on the A. S. T. C. campus. Zeta Chapter of Lambda Delta Lambda is a branch of a national organization to further the interests of the highest ranking majors in the field of physical science. In the field of history a simliar organization is the Mu Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta. Other national fraternities having chapters at A. S. T. C. are Alpha Psi Omega in the field of dramatics and Alpha Tau Alpha, a national agricultural education fraternity. Alpha Beta Mu is the music fraternity and Sigma Beta Lambda is a Home Economics sorority.

Social Fraternities and Sororities:

To use the words of George Ade "if you have never been ham-burged by a real live college fraternity" then you should see the men's fraternities on this campus at work. There are four of them: Kappa Phi Sigma; Chi Nu; Phi Lambda Chi, and Zeta Phi Delta.

These groups provide amusement for the men students, broaden the social experiences of the men, seek to promote the best interests of the college, and serve as a link to bind their alumni to the institution. Among the women there are four sororities seeking to serve a like purpose: Sigma Tau Theta; Alpha Phi Epsilon; Delta Phi Delta; and Beta Phi Gamma.

Departmental Clubs such as the French Club, the Art Club, the Classical Club, the Science Club, and others also exist under the sponsorship of the departments whose students they are designed to serve.

"T" Association:

An organization made up of the men who have lettered in any sport.

Royal Rooters:

A pep organization formed for the purpose of stimulating school spirit among the members of the student body.

Everyone Has a Good Time at A. S. T. C.

The spirit among the students on the campus of the Arkansas State Teachers College is a democratic one. It embraces everyone. We have no snobs. Every student seems interested in seeing that all who come to join their ranks have a good time. As a result it is believed that all do better work than they would do otherwise. Whether at work or at play the students are encouraged to regard themselves as members of one great community.

Play Hour: This community of feeling is fostered by what is known on the campus as play hour. One hour each week after the evening meal is over the students gather in the gymnasium for an hour of play and social recreation. This has proved to be one of the most enjoyable of all the institutions on the campus. It is characterized by a spirit of gracious informality and democracy. A like atmosphere prevails at the numerous student picnics.

Special Days: During the year a large number of special celebrations are held. Each campus organization has its annual reunion to which its alumni return. These reunions are usually featured by a formal party or banquet. One of the most enjoyable and entertaining of these affairs has been the annual "buli fight" of the foreign language clubs.

Then there is the annual "home-coming" day for the alumni. This is usually held on Thanksgiving night at the close of the football season. Nor must we forget to mention the annual birthday party of the college. This day is always observed on the Wednesday nearest the 15th of May by an all-day holiday and celebration participated in by all students and faculty members and directed by the members of the Senior Class. On this day it would seem that the carnival spirit takes complete possession of everyone.

We are a happy family at the Arkansas State Teachers College. We should be very glad to welcome you to our circle. We have a place ready for you.

IV. Is the Expense of Attending A. S. T. C. Burdensome?

Compare the following statement as to the expense of attending the Arkansas State Teachers College with what it costs to attend any other college you may have under consideration.

COLLEGE FEES

	Per Quarter No Charge	Per Year No Charge
1. Tuition -----
2. Library and incidental (includes admission to all athletic contests and debates, to one Little Theatre production or Lyceum number, and a subscription to the college paper The Echo) -----	$10.00	$30.00
3. Physical Education fees (includes medical examination at entrance) -----	.50	1.50
4. Laboratory fees (charged only in Science or other laboratory courses) -----	.50 to 3.00	1.50 to 9.00
Total -----	$10.50 to $13.50	$31.50 to $40.50

ROOM AND BOARD

	Per Month	Per Quarter	Per Year
Room in Dormitory -----	$ 6.00	$18.00	$ 54.00
Meals in Dormitory -----	12.00	36.00	108.00

OTHER EXPENSES

The only other expenses a student at A. S. T. C. has to meet will be those relating to personal items such as books, laundry, clothing, etc. These, of course, will vary according to the demands of the individual student.

NOT A BURDEN BUT A PRIVILEGE

A study of these expense items shows that it is possible to secure a standard college education at the Arkansas State Teachers College without incurring heavy financial burdens. As a matter of fact, the college fees for the entire four years required to secure a degree are less than the amount charged by many colleges for the freshman year alone. The young men and women of Arkansas are thus privileged and have the opportunity to secure for themselves at a minimum cost educational advantages equal to those to be found anywhere.

*Are

All students entering A. S. T. C. this fall for the first time are expected to present themselves at Torreyson Library at 9:00 a. m., Monday, September 11, 1933, for instructions pertaining to classification and program of work for the fall term. It is important that new students observe this announcement. To do so will save many questions and considerable useless expense later.

We invite you to attend the Arkansas State Teachers College at Conway. For further information address the President, Arkansas State Teachers College, Conway, Arkansas.
