ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM

The 2023 Women in Economics Symposium will take place at the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis in St. Louis, Missouri on Thursday, February 23, 2023.

Many of us know firsthand just how important a mentor or role model can be. What better way to acknowledge this than to celebrate and reflect on the invaluable function that role models play in our lives?

At the 2023 Women in Economics Symposium, you will hear from some exciting role models with fascinating careers in economics while also learning some practical tips about job searching, finding a mentor and more.

Featured Speakers

- Stephanie Aaronson, vice president and director-economic studies, Brookings Institution
- Daryl Fairweather, chief economist, Redfin
