- Recruitment
 - Arkidscode listserv has been fruitful by sending out simple emails; 4-5 students have applied because of the email correspondence
 - Other listservs or organizations: Asked advisory board members to share ideas.
 - Vicki Parish mentioned ArBUG Blackboard Users Group and Arkansas Distance Learning Association (Kim Lamb mentioned that it is not active)
 - We're also institutional members with the Online Learning Consortium. They have areas to recruit IDs and such, it might be worth looking into if you could recruit students there as well.
 - Kimberly Raup mentioned the listserv csforar@ade.arkansas.gov and to get into the newsletter; she also mentioned reaching out to Business Education groups
 - Carl Frank is the Arkansas rep of the Computer Science Teacher's Association. It is a National organization and he may be able to include UCA info at the National Conference in July.
 - Arkansas Business Educator's Association and Arkansas Career Technical Educator's conference is June 26-27 (ISH) in Hot Spring
 - Kirsten Wilson mentioned AIM, AIIA, TCEA (Texas conference), and LinkedIn
 - ACOT is the tech director's Conference
 - Kimberly Lamb shared an instagram page she is working on at UAMS. The focus is highlighting diverse experiences in the medical field. She mentioned the ITEC program could do something similar.

- Derek Ratchford asked about print materials; he would be willing to bring them with him to Innovation Institute on June 8th with teachers across the state, and I am teaching sessions for all “new to district” teachers the first week of August.
- HSTI booth this summer-Kirsten will be there as well
- ISTE conference this summer could also be a helpful resource.
- UCA College of Education online Professional Development this summer
- Future Planning Exercise
