

CURRICULUM VITAE

Amanda J. Money, M.S.

Personal Information

Contact Information

Home: 8 Meadow Lane

Searcy, AR 72143

501-278-0064 Cell

Current Position

Instructor 2012-present

Department of Family and Consumer Sciences

University of Central Arkansas

201 Donaghey Ave, Conway, AR 72035

Office: Burdick 304 A

Phone: 501-450-5950

Email: amoney@uca.edu

I. Education

Institution	Degree	Year
University of Central Arkansas	M.S	2010-2011
College of Health and Behavioral Sciences Conway, AR	Family and Consumer Science

University of Central Arkansas                      B.S.                      2009-2010
College of Health and Behavioral Sciences      Family and Consumer Science
Conway, AR

Arkansas State University at Beebe              A.S.                      2004-2008
Beebe, AR                      Health Sciences

II. Teaching Experience

The University of Central Arkansas

Course: Family Relations FACS 2351. Instructor. Teaching the course focusing on issues confronting the family including study of marriage, and single, group, and family living through stages of the family life cycle.                      1/2012-Present

Course: Resource Management FACS 3311. Instructor. Teaching the online course on the decision-making process and management principles applied to consumer activities and personnel management for the dietitian.                      8/2012- Present

Course: Parenting Issues FACS 3318. Instructor. Teaching the online and on-campus course on the study of the basic principles and skills for parent effectiveness including application of fundamental tasks and issues in child rearing to unique characteristics and developmental stages of children

1/2014-Present

III. Graduate Assistantship

The University of Central Arkansas

Course: Textiles FACS 2360. Graduate Assistant for Dr. Terri Rine. Assisted Dr. Rine in proctoring exams, leading class lectures and basic assistance for the instructor. Textiles is a required course for the interior design and general FACS major. The course includes a study of the fundamental weaves, yarns, fibers, colors, and finishes with reference to selection of fabrics for clothing and home furnishings.                      1/2011- 5/2011

IV. Course Development

The University of Central Arkansas

Course: Parenting Issues FACS 3318. Course development for the online section of the course. I spent the Spring Semester of 2015 developing this course for an online section offering starting in the summer of 2015. After developing this course I submitted it to our department curriculum committee for approval. It was approved in the spring of 2015.

V. Service Learning

The University of Central Arkansas

Assisted fellow instructor Melissa Potter in a service learning project of gathering food and other games and activities given to area youth for the summer break. I assisted her by having my students collect materials during the semester for this. Spring 2016

VI. Other FACS experience

Dr. Jerry A. Burns, MD OBGYN

Since January of 2009 I have worked in various capacities for Dr. Burns. Among other things I have created educational materials for his patients on the benefits of breastfeeding and nutrition in pregnancy. I have also counseled patients on breastfeeding technique. I currently maintain his online presence and post educational information for his clinic.

1/2009- Present