

Prestigious Fellowships and Grants

...of possible interest to students within the College of Liberal Arts

Student Fulbright—for use after the undergrad degree is in hand; supports one academic year of study or research/creative project (in all fields) or of teaching English (ETA); also offers special awards in business, music, and public policy; several hundred awards made annually

www.fulbrightonline.org

Truman—up to $30,000 for graduate study; selects approximately 60 juniors annually who have the potential to become “change agents” in many walks of life, such as education, government, and public administration www.truman.gov

*The Boren Scholarships/Fellowships—funds study abroad for undergrads and grads in “geographic areas, languages, and fields of study deemed critical to U.S. national security,” with “national security” broadly defined

www.borenawards.org

Rhodes—supports a second B.A. or graduate study in a wide array of fields at Oxford University, Oxford, England. www.rhodesscholar.org

Gates-Cambridge—full support for graduate study in any field available at Cambridge University, England. www.gatesscholar.org

Marshall—supports graduate study in a wide array of fields at one of several universities in the UK, including Scotland

www.marshallscholarship.org

Mitchell—supports graduate study in a wide array of fields at one of several universities in Ireland www.us-irelandalliance.org

James Madison—supports graduate study for educators intending to teach American history at the secondary level www.jamesmadison.com

*EPA STAR (Science to Achieve Results) Program—supports internships and graduate study in the US; includes students in a variety of social science fields www.epa.gov/ncer

*Has grants for use while a student is still an undergraduate

(over)

*Rotary International—funds summer travel and/or graduate study in up to 80 countries www.rotary.org

Jack Kent Cooke Foundation Dissertation Fellowship –funds advanced doctoral students with financial need and who are doing research “that further[s] the understanding of the educational pathways and experiences of high-achieving, low-income students” www.jkcf.org

*The DAAD, or German Academic Exchange Service (Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst)—funds internships, research, and programs of study for undergrads and graduate students at one of over 300 German institutions of higher ed; largest such program in the world www.daad.de/en/

*Humanity in Action—fellowships for summer study abroad on topics concerning tolerance for minorities and promotion of democratic values in developing countries www.humanityinaction.org/programs

William J. Clinton Fellowship for Service in India—places young college grads with NGOs working in India to improve citizens’ lives in numerous areas www.aif.org/w-j-clinton-fellowship.html

Southern Regional Education Board (SREB) Doctoral Scholarship—provides financial support for advanced, minority graduate students completing terminal degrees www.sreb.org/page/1074/doctoral\_scholars.html

Woodrow Wilson —supports graduate study in several fields, particularly foreign affairs, conservation, women and gender, and religion and ethics www.woodrow.org/higher-education-fellowships/index.php

British universities (generally)—several offer scholarships earmarked for American students pursuing graduate degrees in a wide variety of fields, including all the traditional humanities and social sciences

*Has grants for use while a student is still an undergraduate

For further information, email Allison Wallace, allisonw@uca.edu